

Rod Guard® cannisters and accessories provide great storage and inventory control for all your welding electrodes, rods and filler metals. And every one of them is made in America and built to last.

Each Rod Guard® cannister is certified chloride-free and features a threaded cap with long-lasting neoprene seal to keep electrodes airtight-preventing them from being contaminated with atmospheric moisture.

Because Rod Guard® cannisters are constructed of high-impact polyethylene, which protect electrodes from damage, they can be reused for many years.
